Since January 2025 I have served on the Chetco Community Public Library board of directors, who unanimously appointed me to fill a vacancy. I'm grateful for their vote of confidence, and ask for yours in May.

I was raised in Brookings and have filled my life with stacks of books from Chetco Library! In addition to being a book-lover, I have professional experience, expertise, interpersonal skills, and the drive to serve at a high level of quality.

What does the district board of directors do?

The Board is responsible for the library's visioning and planning, the public budget process, meeting state requirements for audits, public services, and bids/hiring; acceptance of grants and bequests; and stewarding the building and funds for the community in accordance with special district rules and good governance practices.

I joined the library board as the new strategic plan was adopted. Now the plan is in the implementation phase, and, with your help, I look forward to supporting and monitoring its progress throughout the next four years.

Education

My education includes training in analyzing case law and statutes, local governments & local democracy, and ethics in society.

- Brookings Harbor High School, Valedictorian
- Westmont College, B. A. Modern Languages, Political Science, summa cum laude
- U. C. Berkeley School of Law (Boalt Hall), Public Service & Public Interest Law, honors
- Pacific Lutheran Theological Seminary, Walter M. Stuhr Award for Excellence in Ethics

Professional Admissions

State Bar of California

Oregon State Bar

Ordained Minister of Word & Service (Deacon), Evangelical Lutheran Church in America

Select Relevant Experience

My experience includes substantial work in fair hiring, anti-discrimination, workplace concerns, and wage & hour law, including government experience serving as legal research attorney fellow for the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission on cases of religious discrimination and disability accommodation.

I've committed my career to serving a cross-section of society in public service (government) and not-for-profit models. I understand the difference between running a business for personal gain profit and providing a public service accountable to the community.

In addition to writing & tracking grant budgets over my career, I've completed a multi-part public budget training from the Special District Association of Oregon and have held multiple events around the community to hear ideas from library patrons.

Select Community Volunteer Service

Previous library volunteer operating a church check-out library, and with the Chetco Community Public Library's summer reading program. I've presented educational workshops at the Chetco library on topics ranging from Oregon coast wildflowers to changes in Oregon law, and helped create a partnership between our Oregon Judicial District and Chetco Library.

- Curry County Law Day 2023 (presenter)
- Curry County Housing Committee (Board of Commissioners appointee)
- Del Norte Mission Possible (board of directors)
- Every Child Curry (tutoring & enrichment volunteer)
- Native Plant Society of Oregon, South Coast Chapter, vice president (community education & activities)

Values, Approach, Skills

One of my core values is life-long learning, and the Chetco Library has been helping me live out that value since childhood!

I support positive, forward-looking, strengths-based approaches to library business that balance two goals: public access and staff administrability.

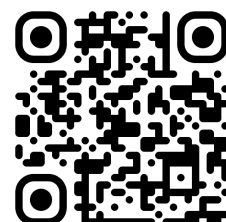

I value cordial, professional relationships, and am a pragmatic problem-solver.

I believe that, no matter one's station in life, everyone should have the opportunity to see their own experiences reflected at the library, as well as to encounter stories of people unlike themselves and be offered a glimpse into other places and cultures.

- Grant writing, budgets, tracking, reporting
- Public service, public bids & hiring, civic engagement
- Brookings-Harbor roots & community involvement, collaborative

Libraries benefit the entire community, as they create an informed, skilled, connected, and engaged populace. I am proud to be part of stewarding the Chetco Community Public Library for the benefit of our community as a member of the library board, and ask for your vote to continue to serve.
